News

Naman Howell is proud to announce that Fort Worth attorney, Shane O'Dell, has been admitted to the International Association of Defense Counsel (IADC). Membership in the IADC is an invitation-only honor requiring nomination and two additional sponsors to even be considered. Currently, Mr. O'Dell is one of only four IADC attorneys in Fort Worth, Texas.

The IADC has been serving a distinguished membership of corporate and insurance defense attorneys and insurance executives since 1920. Its activities benefit the approximately 2,500 invitation-only, peer reviewed members and their clients, as well as the civil justice system and the legal profession. Moreover, the IADC takes a leadership role in many areas of legal reform and professional development. To learn more about the IADC please visit their website.

The firm is proud to recognize Mr. O'Dell for this incredible accomplishment and his continued hard work serving the firm's Fort Worth clients. With clients and experiences spanning a large variety of industries and areas of the law including construction, real estate, franchise, restaurant/hospitality, transportation, commercial general liability, commercial litigation, construction defect, workplace injury, nonsubscriber, landlord/tenant, professional liability, personal liability, first party property, bad faith, entrepreneurs, oil and gas, and more, Mr. O'Dell is surely deserving of this honor.

To learn more about Shane O'Dell, and the many other skilled attorneys in the firm, please visit the firm's attorney profiles section.
